Setting Up Your Thesis Oral Defense

	Timing	Task
☐	At least SIX WEEKS before your talk	You should notify csd-phd-support@cs.cmu.edu if there are any committee member changes for your thesis committee since your proposal. A copy of the complete thesis document should be provided to the whole thesis committee for review.
☐	At least ONE MONTH before your talk	Finalize talk date, email csd-phd-support@cs.cmu to confirm talk date and request a room be reserved. Always refer to the PhD Talks Scheduling Calendar to determine available and blocked dates.
☐	Seven to Ten* DAYS before your talk	A minimum of seven days in advance of your talk you should send the information as outlined on the Thesis Oral Defense Process page to csd-phd-support@cs.cmu.edu so Marcom can prepare the appropriate announcements for your talk.
☐	Seven to Ten* DAYS before your talk	Set up your Zoom for external committee attendance. If you will be allowing remote audience attendance, provide the Zoom link for announcements and send the completed Live streaming form to csd-phd-support@cs.cmu.edu. The department will file this form for you.
		Always refer to the Thesis Oral Defense Process page for current thesis oral defense information.

Day of Your Thesis Oral Defense

	Timing	Task
☐	30 minutes before your talk	Room reservations are set to give you set-up time to test A/V equipment & get comfortable with the room before your committee and guests arrive.
☐	Talk time of 45-50 minutes + 30 minutes wrap-up	The talk of approximately 45-50 minutes (with clarification questions only) is followed by questions from the committee, questions from the audience, private meeting of the committee and private meeting with the speaker.
		The Doctoral Programs Manager will have your advisor(s) sign the title sheet for your thesis and retain it until your official certification date. It is then signed by the department head and Dean and is provided to SCS to include in the printed thesis document.

CSD Certification Deadlines and Departing CSD & CMU

	Timing	Task
