About the Program

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The Fifth-Year Master's Program is a research-oriented Master's degree program that only accepts students with a BS in Computer Science from Carnegie Mellon. One of the primary motivations for the Fifth-Year Master's Program is to encourage our very brightest undergraduates to become more involved with research as quickly as possible and to broaden their often hectic undergraduate experience. Many of our students do get involved with research, even while they are still undergraduates, and many of them find that they will be interested in research as they learn more about it. We also want to encourage a select group of students to go on to graduate school by providing them with an additional qualification and period of study beyond the undergraduate degree.

The normal duration of the program is 12 months, including one normal academic year and one summer. The most common scenario will be for students to start working on a research project during the summer after their senior year, and continue on with that project while taking classes during the academic year. Students can only start the Fifth-Year Master's program after they have received their Bachelor of Science in Computer Science.

Normally, a student's advisor will be the faculty member who sponsored the student's admission. The rationale for this is that the student has already gotten a head start working with that faculty member, and that faculty member has gone through the effort to work with that student and identify them as being talented.

DEGREE OFFERED

Master of Science in Computer Science-Research Thesis

ADMISSIONS

The Fifth-Year Master's Program is administered by the Department of Computer Science. Students may propose to do their work in any one of the divisions of SCS from an approved faculty advising list. The primary criteria for admitting a student is strong evidence of research potential based on close interaction with one or more faculty members — whether in projects, summer jobs, or advanced classes. In addition to the sponsor, there should be strong support from another faculty member who is also convinced that the student shows great promise for doing research in order for the student to be admitted.

Students typically apply in their senior year. A first application deadline is in the middle of the Fall semester. Official notification of acceptance to the Fifth-Year Master's Program will be given by the end of the Fall semester. The goal is to confirm acceptance prior to the normal job search and graduate school acceptance times. Early admission may also allow students to tailor the remainder of their undergraduate program to prepare for the Fifth-Year Master's Program. A second application period is held early in the Spring semester as well.

PROGRAM ORIENTATION

There is a short program orientation at the beginning of the Fall semester. You will be notified in advance of the date and time.

PROGRAM CONTACT AND PHONE NUMBERS

Tracy Farbacher, Program Administrator GHC 7117, tracyf@cs.cmu.edu

Tracy is responsible for the day-to-day administration of the Program. She is the first place you should turn for information about the Program, and can help you with most of your concerns or connect you with those who can.

Peter Steenkiste, Program Director, 412-268-3261, GHC 9111, prs@cs.cmu.edu

ROLE OF THE PROGRAM DIRECTOR

The Director is responsible for the conduct of the Program. The Director has the power to interpret all policies and, with good cause, to grant exceptions to Requirements and policies, as well as to revise them. The Director has the power to delegate this authority.

ACADEMIC CALENDAR

The Academic Calendar contains important dates, such as those of the registration periods, add and drop deadlines, University holidays and observances, and the final exam period. The Academic Calendar can be found here: <http://www.cmu.edu/hub/calendar.html>

CURRICULUM

Students will take a minimum of 48 units worth of graduate courses in the School of Computer Science. To satisfy the breadth requirement, students should take at least two breadth courses in different areas in computer science. The remaining units (a minimum of 24) should consist of electives; these are typically used to gain depth in the student's research area.

The elective units can be satisfied using any course at the 700 level and up in the School of Computer Science; with prior approval, it may also be possible to use courses outside of SCS.

Students must receive a grade of A or B in each of the courses; no credit will be given for grades of C or below. The exact program for each student depends on courses already taken as an undergraduate. Students should discuss their course selection with their advisor.

Students must also complete a significant research project as part of their degree resulting in a thesis (typically 24 units during the fall and spring semester and 48 units in the summer). The thesis research should result in a thesis document and an oral presentation summarizing the results of the student's project.

Both the thesis document and presentation should be approved by the student's advisor and a "reader", a second faculty member familiar with the student's research area.

Students must remain on campus for the duration of the program, including during their summer research semester. Even if the advisor is away, the student should plan to work from the university during this time.

BREADTH COURSES 2020-2021

The list of Area Breadth Courses below shows the breadth courses currently planned for the 20-21 academic year. Some courses are marked with an * (asterisk) and some are marked with an – (em-dash). Classes marked with * are recommended for students from outside an area since they:

- assume an undergraduate background in the relevant area-no more and no less;
- are meant to be accessible to all Computer Science graduate students, not just those in the area; and
- are offered on a regular basis so students can plan ahead.

In some cases it is possible to use alternative courses to satisfy the breadth requirement. If you want to substitute a breadth course for educational reason, please submit a request to the 5th Year Program Director. You should check the list at <https://www.cs.cmu.edu/~csd-grad/breadth.html> to confirm currently available courses since course schedules can change during the year.

PREPARING FOR YOUR THESIS PRESENTATION

CHECKLIST FOR GRADUATING FIFTH-YEAR M.S. SCHOLARS

Each student should create a thesis committee consisting of the advisor and a second faculty member. The second faculty member should be a faculty member from the School of Computer Science or someone who has advising privileges in the Computer Science Department. The thesis presentation must be held on the CMU Pittsburgh campus, and both the student and the two thesis committee members must be physically present at the thesis presentation. This thesis committee must also approve the thesis document.

Please see: <http://www.cs.cmu.edu/~csd-grad/thesiscommittee.html>. (requires authentication)

SCHEDULE A DATE

- Thesis presentations should be scheduled only during academic periods -- not during holidays, weekends, etc., and should be scheduled in normal business hours. Exceptions must be approved by the Director of the Fifth-Year Scholars program.
- The student should coordinate the date with the committee members and finalize it at least one month in advance to allow time for review of the document and comments by the committee. Be sure to check with Tracy Farbacher (tracyf@cs) before finalizing the date, to make sure there are no other presentations scheduled at the chosen time.
- Thesis presentations cannot be scheduled to overlap with other MS thesis presentations or PhD proposals and orals. Once you have settled on a date/time Tracy will help you to reserve a room.
- The room scheduled must be available to the public and must accommodate a reasonably large number of people (~30). Tracy will help you schedule an appropriate room in GHC.
- Thesis presentations will be announced by Tracy at least one week prior to thesis presentation date. Please cc your advisor on all correspondence to Tracy for date and time requested.

AT LEAST ONE WEEK BEFORE THE ORAL

Send to Tracy (tracyf@cs) the information needed for posting notice:

- 1) Date
- 2) Time
- 3) Place
- 4) Title
- 5) Thesis committee members
- 6) Thesis Abstract - Less than 350 words describing the thesis. Send on-line, ascii text.
- 7) Pointer to the thesis document - Send either a website location or a pdf. The site will be announced on the web and on physical postings.

DAY OF ORAL EXAMINATION

Pick up the signature forms from Tracy before going to the examination.

Thesis Forms - to be signed by the thesis advisor, the program head, and the dean, once the final copy of the thesis has been approved by both committee members. Once your advisor signs, Tracy will handle the remaining signatures.

SUBMITTING YOUR THESIS

- Talk with Catherine Copetas about making your thesis into a CS Technical Report by putting it on-line. If you are able to do this successfully, she will not need a hard copy. If not, you will need to provide a second copy to her for the Tech Report. This copy should be formatted for two-sided copying.
- Check for proper title page format.
- If you are financially supported by your advisor at Carnegie Mellon, check research credits with Nancy McCarthy and/or Todd Seth.
- Send Tracy a PDF version of your final approved document.

BEFORE YOU LEAVE

Leave your forwarding address with Tracy Farbacher.

ACADEMIC POLICIES

UNIVERSITY POLICIES AND EXPECTATIONS

It is the responsibility of each member of the Carnegie Mellon community to be familiar with university policies and guidelines. In addition to this departmental graduate student handbook, the following resources are available to assist you in understanding community expectations:

- The Word/Student Handbook: www.cmu.edu/student-affairs/theword//index.html
- Academic Integrity Policy: (<https://www.cmu.edu/policies/student-and-student-life/academic-integrity.html>)
- University Policies Website: www.cmu.edu/policies/
- Graduate Education Website: <http://www.cmu.edu/graduate/policies/index.html>

Please see Appendix A for additional information about The Word and University resources.

THE CARNEGIE MELLON CODE

Students at Carnegie Mellon, because they are members of an academic community dedicated to the achievement of excellence, are expected to meet the highest standards of personal, ethical and moral conduct possible.

These standards require personal integrity, a commitment to honesty without compromise, as well as truth without equivocation and a willingness to place the good of the community above the good of the self. Obligations once undertaken must be met, commitments kept.

As members of the Carnegie Mellon community, individuals are expected to uphold the standards of the community in addition to holding others accountable for said standards. It is rare that the life of a student in an academic community can be so private that it will not affect the community as a whole or that the above standards do not apply.

The discovery, advancement and communication of knowledge are not possible without a commitment to these standards. Creativity cannot exist without acknowledgment of the creativity of others. New knowledge cannot be developed without credit for prior knowledge. Without the ability to trust that these principles will be observed, an academic community cannot exist.

The commitment of its faculty, staff and students to these standards contributes to the high respect in which the Carnegie Mellon degree is held. Students must not destroy that respect by their failure to meet these standards. Students who cannot meet them should voluntarily withdraw from the university.

The Carnegie Mellon Code can also be found on-line at:
<https://www.cmu.edu/student-affairs/theword/>.

ACADEMIC ADVISING

Students are required to review their academic plans and proposed schedules with their assigned Academic Advisor prior to registering for classes and prior to adding or dropping any courses intended to be used to satisfy Requirements.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

Please understand that CMU's standards for academic integrity are high and may differ significantly from the standards at other places you may have studied. Conduct which may be accepted or commonplace elsewhere may result in you failing a class here, and may also lead to stronger sanctions, such as temporary suspension, permanent Dismissal from the Program, and/or expulsion from CMU.

As just one example, we understand that at some institutions it is acceptable to submit code written by somebody else as long as you can explain it in detail when asked to. At CMU the submission of any code written by anybody else usually counts as an academic integrity violation, often results in a failing course grade, and may result in additional sanctions.

Generally speaking, all work you submit must be your own, you must not use the work of others without proper citation, and you must not use resources, including other persons, except as authorized by the course or project for which you are submitting the work. The University Policy on Academic Integrity includes the University expectations around academic integrity and provides definitions of cheating, plagiarism, and unauthorized assistance.

Please review the University Policy on Academic Integrity:

<https://www.cmu.edu/policies/student-and-student-life/academic-integrity.html>

The policy includes the University expectations around academic integrity and provides definitions of cheating, plagiarism, and unauthorized assistance.

A review of the University's Academic Disciplinary Actions procedures is also recommended:

<https://www.cmu.edu/student-affairs/theword/academic-discipline/index.html>

These procedures outline the process for investigating, reporting, and adjudicating violations of the University Policy on Academic Integrity. The procedures also outline the appeal process.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR SATISFYING REQUIREMENTS

It is the sole responsibility of the student to satisfy all requirements of the Program. The Director, Administrator, Advisors, and other faculty and staff, although sources of information and advice, are not responsible for notifying students of deficiencies in their academic plans or progress. Students are strongly encouraged to become familiar with the requirements and to review their progress each semester.

MINIMUM QPA

During each semester, students must achieve each of a 3.0 QPA across all courses taken during the semester and also a 3.0 QPA in Qualifying Courses. Furthermore, students must maintain a minimum of a 3.0 QPAs cumulatively across all semesters.

GRADES

A passing grade is B or higher, regardless of the home department or level of the course. A passing grade is required for a course to count toward the Requirements or to serve as a prerequisite for another course.

University Policy on Grades: <https://www.cmu.edu/policies/student-and-student-life/grading.html>

Process for Appealing Final Grades <https://www.cmu.edu/graduate/policies/appeal-grievance-procedures.html>

Final grades will be changed only in exceptional circumstances and only with the approval of the instructor and the department, unit or program. Grading is a matter of sound discretion of the instructor and final grades are rarely changed without the consent of the instructor who assigned the grade. The following circumstances are the unusual exceptions that may warrant a grade appeal: (a) the final grade assigned for a course is based on manifest error (e.g. a clear error such as arithmetic error in computing a grade or failure to grade one of the answers on an exam), or (b) the faculty or staff member who assigned the grade did so in violation of a University policy.

REGISTRATION, ADDING, DROPPING AND WITHDRAWING FROM COURSES

Newly admitted students will receive information about course registration. The timetable for course registration, as well as for adding and dropping courses is set by the University as published in the official academic calendar, which can be found here: <http://www.cmu.edu/hub/calendar.html>

Especially after the end of the Add period, you should consult your Academic Advisor before dropping a class. Frequently you should discuss the situation with your course instructor(s) as well. It is generally quite unwise to drop a class without appropriate consultation.

Students taking undergraduate and Master's level courses must follow the procedures and deadlines for adding, dropping, or withdrawing from courses as identified on the academic calendar. Information can be found at <https://www.cmu.edu/hub/registrar/course-changes/index.html>. There is a separate calendar for doctoral level courses.

COURSE LOAD

Because courses at Carnegie Mellon are very demanding, the program defines a maximum course load, which may be different for incoming and returning students. Academic Advisors can increase the maximum course load for an individual student, based upon that student's academic plan and achievement. Your Academic Advisor will increase your maximum course load, if needed, to allow you to register for any appropriate schedule. Please seek your Academic Advisor's guidance prior to registering, dropping, or adding classes.

OVERLAPPING COURSES

As attendance is expected in all courses, students are not permitted to enroll in courses that overlap in time. Please schedule only courses that you are able to attend.

RESTRICTED ENROLLMENT

Not all classes at Carnegie Mellon are open to all students. Some classes are restricted by program, by year, or by prerequisites. A few require permission of the instructor, portfolio reviews, auditions, etc. Some courses may have reservations governing how many students may enroll from particular programs or seniority levels. If you are encountering difficulty registering for a desired class, please see your Academic Advisor, who may (or may not) be able to help you register for certain courses within the School of Computer Science, and can often offer advice about similar or alternative courses, the likelihood of getting registered, etc.

TRANSFERRING COURSE CREDIT FROM WITHIN CARNEGIE MELLON

One course taken at Carnegie Mellon prior to matriculation into the Master's program may be eligible to be counted toward the program Requirements. These courses cannot satisfy any requirement, including a unit count requirement, of any degree or certification earned prior to, or concurrent with, any portion of the Master's program. To request such credit, please email the Program Director explaining your request. This email constitutes permission for the Director or designee to review your prior CMU academic records for this purpose. Your request is not approved until you have received written or email approval from the Director or designee.

PITTSBURGH COUNCIL ON HIGHER EDUCATION (PCHE) CROSS-REGISTERED COURSES

<https://www.cmu.edu/policies/student-and-student-life/transfer-credit-evaluation-and-assignment.html>

Carnegie Mellon University offers students the opportunity to take courses for credit through a cross-registration program (see Pittsburgh Council on Higher Education (PCHE) and Cross-registration below) and through the receipt of transfer credit from other accredited institutions. The Carnegie Mellon University transcript will include information on such courses as follows: Carnegie Mellon courses and courses taken through the university's cross-registration program will have grades recorded on the transcript and be factored into the QPA. All other courses will be recorded on this transcript indicating where the course was taken, but without grade. Such courses will not be taken into account for academic actions, honors or QPA calculations. (Note: Suspended students may take courses elsewhere; however, they may receive transfer credit only if their college's and department's policies allow this.)

ENFORCEMENT OF ACADEMIC POLICIES

Any student who fails to achieve the minimum QPA, or otherwise fails to make appropriate progress toward graduation falls out of Good Standing with the Program. The first time a student falls out of Good Standing, the student is subject to Academic Probation, which serves as a warning to the student and may also trigger supportive actions on the part of the program, such as advising meetings and reduced maximum course load.

If, after one semester, the student has not returned to Good Standing, or should a student fall out of Good Standing more than once during the course of the Program, the student is subject to Academic Suspension, which is a mandatory, but temporary, leave from the University. It serves as an opportunity for the student to reevaluate goals, reflect on the requirements for success, and return to the University better prepared to succeed.

Any student, who having ever previously been placed on Academic Suspension, fails to remain in Good Standing, may be Dismissed from the program (i.e., expelled). Dismissal indicates a complete and permanent separation of the student from the Program.

GRANDFATHERING OF REQUIREMENTS

A student is generally bound to the Requirements in force at the time of matriculation, but may elect to satisfy any curriculum Requirements more recent than those under which they matriculated, e.g. a student matriculating in the 2014-2015 academic year may elect to satisfy the Requirements in force during the 2015-2016 academic year.

Because the Master's program is relatively short and in a relatively rapidly changing area, students returning from Leave or Suspension may not be able to return under the same catalogue year, e.g. Requirements, under which they originally matriculated, as the supporting courses may no longer be offered or offered in their original form. Under these circumstances, the Director may approve exceptions to the prior Requirements or require that the returning student satisfy the requirements of more current Requirements, at the Director's option.

Additionally, the Director may revise the Requirements from time to time, so long as these revisions do not unreasonably impede the graduation of those in good standing. The Director may approve exceptions to revised requirements to mitigate the impact of revisions upon those affected.

GRADUATION AND AWARD OF DEGREE

The University's academic regulations govern graduation and the award of academic degrees, including the Master's in Computer Science. The Director shall not unreasonably withhold the certification for graduation of any candidate who satisfies the Requirements of the Program. But, strictly speaking, neither this certification nor this recommendation guaranty that the University shall award a degree. For example, the University may withhold degrees for individuals who have unsatisfied financial obligations.

STATUTE OF LIMITATIONS

As outlined in the Master's Students Statute of Limitations, <https://www.cmu.edu/policies/student-and-student-life/masters-students-statute-of-limitations.html> students will complete all requirements for the master's degree within a maximum of seven years from original matriculation as a master's student, or less if required by a more restrictive department, school or college policy. Once this time-to-degree limit has lapsed, the person may resume work towards a master's degree only if newly admitted to a currently offered master's degree program under criteria determined by that program.

Under extraordinary circumstances, such as leave of absence, military or public service, family or parental leave, or temporary disability, a school or college may, upon the relevant department's recommendation and with the written approval of the dean (or designate), defer the lapse for a period commensurate with the duration of that interruption. Students who are pursuing a master's degree as part-time students for all semesters of their program, as approved by their program, may also appeal to their program or department for extension of the time to degree limit.

WITHDRAWAL OF DEGREE

The University reserves the right to withdraw a degree even though it has been granted should there be discovery that the work upon which it was based or the academic records in support of it had been falsified. In such a case the degree will be withdrawn promptly upon discovery of the falsification.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE/WITHDRAWAL

Matriculated students may voluntarily separate themselves from the University through two mechanisms. A “Leave of Absence” is a separation which is intended to be temporary. In other words, a student who requests a leaves of absence states that it is their intention to return in the future. A student may also “Withdraw” from the University, in which case the student is stating to the University that they are separating themselves from the University with no intention of returning.

Should the University choose to grant a student’s request for a Leave of Absence, it may impose conditions upon the student’s return. For example, should a student request and receive permission to take a Leave of Absence during a period of academic difficulty, the Program may require the student take particular courses upon return or take particular steps to reinforce prerequisite material prior to return. These conditions, to the extent that they are known in advance, are documented on the request form prior to its approval.

PROCESS FOR TAKING LEAVE OF ABSENCE

(University process and/or departmental process) University process:

<https://www.cmu.edu/hub/registrar/leaves-and-withdrawals/>

Process for ‘Withdrawal’ from Program. University process

<https://www.cmu.edu/hub/registrar/leaves-and-withdrawals/>

Withdrawal of Degree. University Policy

<https://www.cmu.edu/policies/student-and-student-life/withdrawal-of-a-degree.html>

The Program adheres to the University’s procedures, policies, and process with respect to the student’s financial obligations as affected by leaves and withdrawals.

These policies can be found here: <https://www.cmu.edu/policies/student-and-student-life/tuition-fees-adjustment.html>

Students who fail to meet required standards of academic achievement may be required to leave the University, either temporarily or permanently. The University policies governing these academic actions can be found here: <https://www.cmu.edu/policies/student-and-student-life/suspension-required-withdrawal-policy.html>

RETURN FROM LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Students seeking to return from a Leave of Absence should contact their academic advisor to review their academic situation and academic plans and to ensure that any conditions that were set at the time the leave was granted are satisfied. The next step is to complete and submit the “Petition to Return from a Leave of Absence” Form (available from the HUB). This request should be completed at least one month prior to the start of the semester. Students may not return from a Leave of Absence until this petition is approved by the University. Further information about the Carnegie Mellon University Student Return Policy can be found at the following website: <https://www.cmu.edu/policies/student-and-student-life/return-student.html>

PROGRAM TRANSFER WITHIN CSD, SCS OR CMU

Each degree program within Carnegie Mellon operates according to its own admissions process. Admission into one program does not guarantee admission into any other program, nor does it grant any preference. Students within Carnegie Mellon seeking to transfer into the Master's Program should contact the Administrator for information about applying. Students within the Program who seek to transfer to another program at Carnegie Mellon should contact that program for information about their requirements and process.

DEFERRED MATRICULATION

Offers for admission into the Program are valid only for the academic year for which they are issued. There is no right to defer an admission offer. Should it be necessary to delay your entry to the Program, it may be necessary to reapply, including payment of any necessary fees.

Should your circumstances necessitate a delay in your matriculation after your acceptance, please contact the Administrator or Director to request a deferral, which is granted solely at the discretion of the Program.

FULL-TIME STATUS REQUIREMENT

Those students admitted with full-time status are, in general, required to carry a full-time course load, presently defined by the University as 36 units. Full-time students seeking to convert, temporarily or permanently, to part-time status may request approval from the Director. Because University policy generally prevents the conversion from part-time status to full-time status beyond the enrollment period at the beginning of the semester, status changes should only occur between semesters. Under certain circumstances international students may be required to maintain full-time student status. International students must seek the advice of the Office of International Education (OIE) before assuming a part-time status, even if that status is approved by the program Director or Administrator.

FINANCIAL OBLIGATIONS AND POLICIES

It is essential that your tuition and other fees be paid on time. The University has a variety of mechanisms to sanction those with delinquent accounts, including withholding degrees, transcripts and registration. Academic departments do not usually receive information about a student's financial situation, so we are unable to help you with financial difficulties and processes. Please contact the HUB for more information about financial policies, procedures, and practices: <http://www.cmu.edu/hub/>

Graduate Small project Help (GuSH) Research Grant

GuSH Research Funding is a source of small research grant funds provided by GSA and the Provost's Office and managed by the Graduate Education Office. Students can find more information about the application process and deadlines at: <https://www.cmu.edu/graduate/professional-development/research-funding/index.html>.

Graduate students will find the Summary of Graduate Student Appeal and Grievance Procedures on the Graduate Education Resource webpage: <https://www.cmu.edu/graduate/policies/appeal-grievance-procedures.html>

This document summarizes processes available to graduate students who seek review of academic and non-academic issues. Generally, graduate students are expected to seek informal resolution of all concerns within the applicable department, unit or program before invoking formal processes. When an informal resolution cannot be reached, however, a graduate student who seeks further review of the matter is to follow the formal procedures outlined here.

These appeal and grievance procedures shall apply to students in all graduate programs of the University. Students should refer to the department specific information in this handbook for department and college information about the administration and academic policies of the program.

INCORPORATION OF APPLICABLE SCS AND UNIVERSITY POLICIES

This handbook describes policies unique to the Master's in Computer Science Program, as well as many University policies of interest to students within the Program. It is however not comprehensive. You can find applicable University-level policies here: <http://www.cmu.edu/policies/>

Additionally, the School of Computer Science and the Computer Science Department may adopt policies applicable to students within the Program.

CHANGE OF ADDRESS

Departments are asked to encourage students to keep their current local address up-to-date in SIO. This supports a university initiative to have accurate living information for students for official program/department/college/university notices, the ability to facilitate wellness checks, ensure international students are in compliance with visa requirements, etc.

Student Academic Support Programs

Tartan Scholars

- The Tartan Scholars program was created to provide support for limited resourced students through an intentional first year undergraduate experience with the goals of enhancing the cohort's skill and community building through a lens of self-authorship, growth mindset, and a sense of belonging. As part of the Student Academic Success Center, Tartan Scholars are invited to join the University and participate in summer initiatives and pre-orientation activities prior to their first year at the University.
- There are opportunities for graduate students to serve as accountability, learning, or development partners, workshop facilitators, and presenters. Contact Diane Hightower at ddhighto@andrew.cmu.edu for more details.

Learning Support

- Supplemental Instruction: Supplemental Instruction (SI) is an academic support model that utilizes peer-assisted study sessions. The SI program provides regularly scheduled review sessions on course materials outside the classroom. SI is a non-remedial approach to learning as the program targets high-risk courses and is available in select courses based on data related to past student performance and feasibility.
- Peer Tutoring: Weekly Tutoring Appointments are offered in a one-on-one and small group format to students from any discipline who need assistance with a course that may not be supported by our other services. Weekly appointments give students the opportunity to interact regularly with the same tutor to facilitate deeper understanding of concepts. Students can register online through the Student Academic Success website.

- Academic Coaching: Academic Coaching provides holistic one-on-one peer support and group workshops to help students find and implement their conditions for success. We assist students in improving time management, productive habits, organization, stress management, and study skills. Students will request support through the Academic Success Center website and attend in-person meetings or meet using video and audio conferencing technology to provide all students with support.
- “Just in Time” Workshops: The Student Academic Success team is available to partner with instructors and departments to identify skills or concepts that would benefit from supplemental offerings (workshops, boot camps) to support students’ academic success and learning. We are eager to help convene and coordinate outside of the classroom skill-building opportunities that can be open to any student interested in building skill or reinforcing course concept mastery.
- Study Partners: Support for students to create and benefit from their own study groups: The Student Academic Success team assists students in forming and benefiting from peer study groups, whereby all students can reap the benefits of peer-to-peer learning, student agency, and collaboration skill development. Staff from the Student Academic Success Center will be made available to instructors and students to assist with the formation of peer-led study groups. This level of support is open to any course where the instructor requests or agrees such support is appropriate and students are interested in both leading and participating.

Language and Cross-cultural Support

More than 60% of graduate students at Carnegie Mellon are international students, and others are nonnative speakers of English who have attended high school or undergraduate programs in the US. Many of these students want to hone their language and cross-cultural skills for academic and professional success. Students can choose from sessions on

- how to give a strong presentation,
- writing academic emails,
- expectations and strategies for clear academic writing,
- how to talk about yourself as a professional in the U.S.,
- developing clearer pronunciation,
- using accurate grammar,
- building fluency, and more.
- Students can make an appointment with a Language Development Specialist to get individualized coaching on language or cross-cultural issues.

The Student Academic Success Center is also charged with certifying the language of International Teaching Assistants (ITAs), ensuring that nonnative English speakers have the language proficiency needed to succeed as teaching assistants in the Carnegie Mellon classroom. Students preparing to do an ITA Certification should plan to take classes offered by the language support team at the SASC from the beginning of their first semester. Start by contacting the language support team at the SASC website or attend a Language Support Orientation at the SASC or in your department.
